

HOLDING ON

Written By Sheena Tan

You're the raindrop in the desert
The end of every rainbow
The light that cuts the darkness
I hold on to You
You're the hope in every trouble
The voice that stills the storm
The rock on which I stand
So I hold on to You

Jesus I'll be holding on to You

At Your word I will believe
All the promises You've made
It's enough to know Your heart
So I'm holding on
No matter what I'm going through
No matter what my eyes may see
It's enough to know Your love
So I'm holding on

Your love, Your perfect love (You're holding on, You're holding on]
